Growing up, I loved summer. It meant no homework, care-free days of playing, and simply having fun. Summer also meant going to camp, Vacation Bible School, family vacations, reunions, and spending time with my cousins. Growing up in the country, however, summer also meant work. There were peas to pick and shell, cows to move from one field to another, grass to cut, and whatever else needed to be done. Back then, summer seemed to last forever.

After having children of my own, I looked forward to the slower pace that came at the end of May and the chance to enjoy fun activities together. We would visit the splash pad downtown, the MOOseum, and Grandma's Attic at the State Archives. These were simple adventures close to home, but they became treasured memories. Our favorite tradition, though, was going to the beach with our extended family. We enjoyed swimming, playing in the sand, and riding the waves on our float. The best part was simply being together. There is something so peaceful about sitting on the beach and listening to the sound of the waves.

Spending time with our Heavenly Father brings that same sense of peace and renewal. As we read His Word and spend time in prayer, we find comfort, strength, and rest. In our daily walk with Christ, we are reminded that God loves us and desires a relationship with us. We can rest in His unfailing love, knowing He is always with us, no matter what we are facing. That truth has been a great comfort to me during difficult seasons and times of sorrow.

Just as the sun shines and touches everything with its warmth, God's unconditional love and amazing grace reach every part of our lives.

"Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good, for his steadfast love endures forever." — Psalm 136:1

Although I love summer, I know it doesn't last forever. But there is one thing that does: God's steadfast love. His love endures forever, and for that, I am truly thankful.
